CALLIGRAPHY: A HIGHLY PROFITABLE HOME BUSINESS OR JUST FOR FUN!

The fine art of calligraphy began in medieval times, when monks joyously and laboriously produced biblical text using intricate, artistic lettering. This regal writing appears today in items such as wedding invitation, birth notices, and certificates of merit. You could also produce suitable-for-framing family trees. Without a huge initial investment, you could offer your services to schools (for diplomas), brides-to-be (for addressing invitations), athletic teams, and even corporations that are involved in recognition programs where certification are in order. CALLIGRAPHY: A HIGHLY PROFITABLE HOME BUSINESS OR JUST FOR FUN

The fine art of calligraphy began in medieval times, when monks joyously and laboriously produced biblical text using intricate, artistic lettering. This regal writing appears today in items such as wedding invitation, birth notices, and certificates of merit. You could also produce suitable-for-framing family trees. Without a huge initial investment, you could offer your services to schools (for diplomas), brides-to-be (for addressing invitations), athletic teams, and even corporations that are involved in recognition programs where certification are in order. Italic alphabet will be covered, but the instructor will touch on other calligraphy alphabets. Supplies will be covered the first night of class. Please register in advance! No class Feb. 15
