PROJECT BACKGROUND

Over the next six months, the City of Mobile will be working with a team of engineers and designers to create the masterplan for a new park on Mobile Bay. The 98-acre park site is located along the western shore of the bay, just east of Brookley Aeroplex.

We want to hear from you and your community to understand how “Brookley by the Bay” can best serve Mobilians and the city at large.

Brookley by the Bay will be an integral part of Mobile’s continued growth, providing waterfront access to its residents and showcasing some of our city’s most cherished natural resources.

TODAY’S WORKSHOP

Today’s event is being held “open house style,” and this roadmap will be your guide to navigating the room.

The workshop will begin with a brief introductory presentation. At any point during the meeting, you can head over to the Site Information + Visioning station to look over photos of the project area and share your vision Brookley by the Bay.

Food is located at the back of the room, and you can direct any concerns that are not related to the project to the 311 table at the front of the room.

If you have more comments or know somebody who couldn't attend today's workshop, reach out to the team at brookleybythebay@cityofmobile.
As you can see, the center of the room is divided into four main stations. You can visit any of the stations for as much time as you like. Each station offers different opportunities for you to contribute to the masterplan, and you don’t have to work through them in any particular order.

You’ll find facilitators from the design team at each station, so don’t be afraid to ask questions and bring up new points of discussion!

At the Connectivity station, we want to know where you currently walk, bike and drive around the site, and how or where it would make sense for you to access the site.

At the History station, we want to hear and record your stories about the site and surrounding area. If you used the site in any of its previous lives (golf course, air field, etc.) or have lived in a neighborhood adjacent to it, be sure to check out this table!

At the Plants, Animals, + Environment station, we want to know what natural features you would like to see preserved and/or showcased at the site. Visit this table to learn more about the site’s diverse natural character.

At the Programming + Kids station, we want to know what programming you would travel to access at the site. We also have coloring sheets at this site where kids (or adults!) can draw the future they see at the site.

If you have more comments or know somebody who couldn’t attend today’s workshop, reach out to the team at brookleybythebay@cityofmobile.org
