BUDGET MESSAGE

from

MAYOR STIMPSON

AUGUST 18, 2023

To the City Council
Mobile, Alabama

Dear City Council Members,

As we prepare the annual budget, we reflect upon the past with an eye towards the future. Together we have taken unprecedented steps to strengthen the fabric of our community and ensure a bright future for the City of Mobile. In the spirit of continuing that momentum, it is my pleasure to submit to you the proposed budget for Fiscal Year 2024.

ANNEXATION

As I write this message, we are in the process of expanding services for over 19,000 new city residents. On July 18, 2023, thousands of voters in three areas of West Mobile went to the polls and elected to join the City of Mobile. After the votes were certified on July 25, 2023, Mobile saw its population increase to more than 206,000 residents (based on the 2020 Census) and became the 2nd largest city in the State of Alabama.

This annexation effort is a win-win for the City of Mobile and the newly annexed residents. Expanding Mobile's city limits to the West and bringing in additional residents will help secure future revenue and grant opportunities to support projects and improvements throughout the city. The successful annexation ensures Mobile can continue its long history of growing to the West while preventing us from becoming landlocked by surrounding municipalities. By joining the city, these new residents have secured nationally accredited police, fire and EMS protection, and other public services such as trash and garbage collection.

Annexation will have a growing impact on the City's budget now and in the coming years. Earlier this year, the City of Mobile performed a cost-benefit analysis, which was validated by PFM Financial Advisors, LLC. The analysis found that after annexation, revenue would significantly exceed expenditures. The report focused on the annexation of four areas in West Mobile, which voted independently of one another. Although one area voted not to join the city limits, we are confident that the annexation will have a positive revenue outcome. To that end, there is an additional $7.2 million in revenue from the newly annexed areas reflected in this proposed budget.

GENERAL FUND FY 2024

Revenues performed better than expected in 2023. To date, sales tax revenues have exceeded our budget by 7.5 percent and total revenue is ahead of plan by $27 million. Still there is some economic uncertainty as we enter this next fiscal year. As always, we will need to monitor our spending and revenues closely and be prepared to adjust our plan if conditions worsen.

You may remember that twelve years ago the City’s debt reached an all-time high of around $317 million. Thanks to our continued efforts, we have reduced city debt to $137 million year to date. It is our goal again this year to continue to reduce debt levels while maintaining a mandatory reserve of two months of expenditures.

In recent months, the City underwent an effort to renegotiate interest rates on our bank deposits, which include Treasury bills, money market funds and certificates of deposits. This effort is reflected in the largest increase to revenue line items as interest and investment income goes from $440,000 in FY23 to $6.3 million in FY24.

Our General Fund budget will reflect modest growth once again in FY24. The City of Mobile is not immune to the workforce challenges employers are facing across the country. Earlier this year we conducted a compensation study to ensure we are paying competitive wages across the board. Based on this report, we have adjusted wages in departments to ensure we are able to attract and retain employees. Additionally, we have included a 5 percent cost of living adjustment (COLA) for all employees in this year’s budget.

Thanks to our spending discipline over the years, we currently have an unassigned general fund balance of $132 million of which $55 million is required to be maintained as a rainy-day fund.

As our departments work to balance major infrastructure upgrades and transformative quality of life projects with decades of deferred maintenance on City facilities, we will have to think carefully about how to fund this work. Of projects currently out for design, there is an estimated shortfall of $235 million to see these projects to completion. We will need to look to the unassigned funds and other sources of revenue to help us fill the gaps.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS FUND BUDGET FY 2024

This year’s Capital Improvement Fund Budget will be $75.2 million. It is primarily funded by the One-Cent Sales Tax. Other major revenue sources are gasoline taxes, lease/rental and room taxes, business license fees and transfers from the Convention Center. The largest expense category is debt service and transfers. Debt service and transfers total approximately $23.9 million leaving $51.3 million to be applied to capital projects. The primary difference in this year’s capital budget will be a change in the CIP Program district distributions.

On Tuesday, August 1, you voted to renew the City of Mobile’s CIP Program through 2028. Historically, the CIP Program has allocated $3 million to each of your council districts annually. In addition to extending the CIP program to 2028, the ordinance increased the allocation to $4 million for each district.

Established in 2016, the CIP Program has directed $168 million in sales tax revenue to fund improvements to roads, sidewalks, public infrastructure, parks, greenways, and city facilities. The CIP program has also supported critical transportation and environmental projects across the entire community. As council members, you work directly with constituents and the administration to meet the greatest needs in your districts. The increase in the CIP Program district allocations will ensure we are able to meet the rising cost of materials and services as we continue to address the infrastructure in our city.

E-COMMERCE

As I’ve discussed in previous budget messages, the tax assessment and distribution of goods purchased through online commerce continues to be problematic. According to the US Census Bureau’s Quarterly Retail Sales E-Commerce Report, online sales in the first quarter of 2023 accounted for 15.1 percent of total sales in the US. If all e-commerce were taxed at the same level as brick-and-mortar sales in the State of Alabama, the City of Mobile would have generated an estimated $12.4 million more in sales tax revenues in 2023 alone.

MOBILE A L A B A M A

This is not just a challenge facing Mobile. Existing state legislation intended to tax out-of-state sales, known as the Simplified Sellers Use Tax (SSUT), significantly disadvantages Alabama's largest cities, especially as e-commerce makes up a greater share of consumer transactions. This was further verified by an independent study conducted in May of 2023 by the Public Affairs Research Council of Alabama (PARCA) and titled E-Commerce and Taxation: Questions of Efficiency and Equal Treatment.

I have joined my colleagues from the Big 10 Mayors Association to shed light on this growing threat and seek an agreeable solution. As the 2023 legislative session approached, we gathered additional information and knowledge which pointed to the need to get more data from the Alabama Department of Revenue (ADOR). We have asked ADOR to request the larger vendors and marketplace facilitators to voluntarily compile a report of all sales shipped into Alabama that shows the aggregate sales for the last two quarters of 2022 for each Alabama tax jurisdiction.

We believe that good data on where online sales are being delivered will provide the answers to critical questions surrounding a solution for this growing problem. This is a threat that will only be exacerbated as our citizens do more of their shopping online. This council has always supported efforts to address this important issue facing our city's future, and I appreciate your partnership moving forward.

CONCLUSION

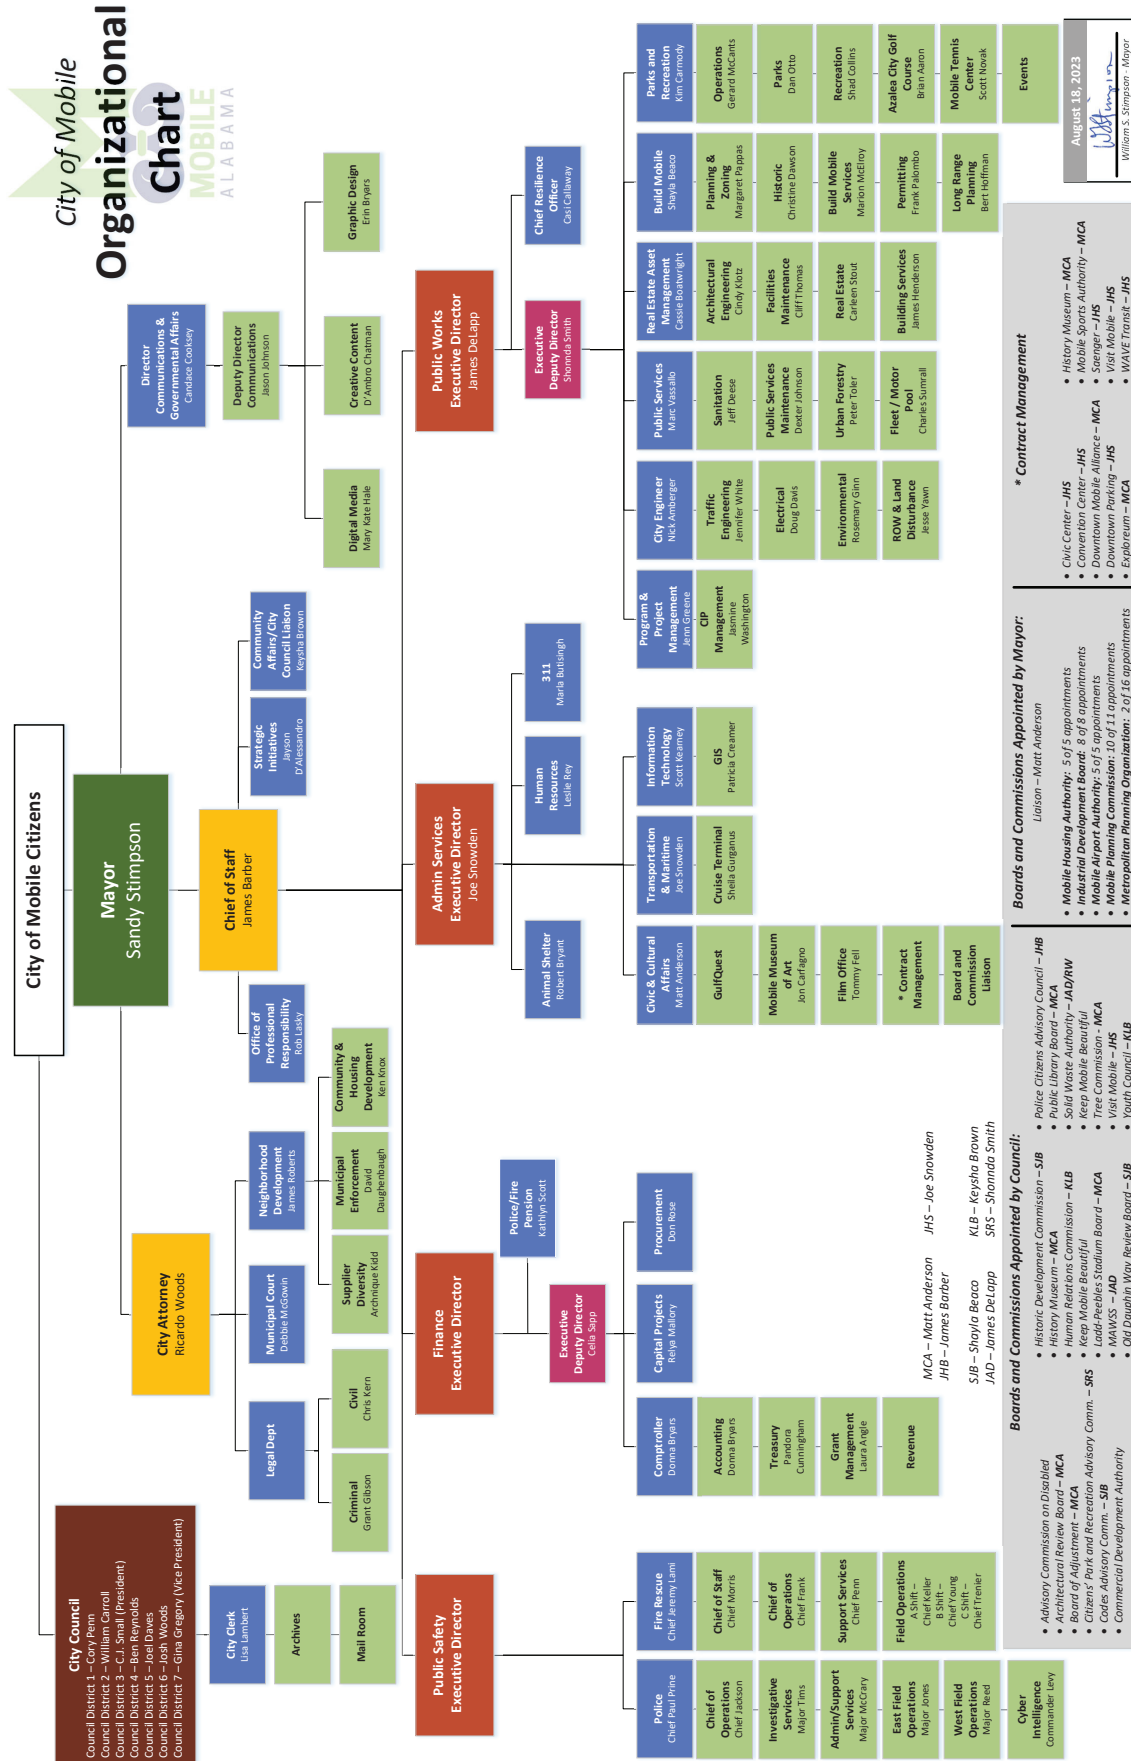

The City of Mobile remains on sound financial footing. With 168 active capital projects, we are undergoing a transformation unlike any other time in our city's history. Our greatest challenge continues to be funding these projects, while reducing debt and maintaining a strong financial position. With fiscal discipline and close monitoring of our spending, we are poised to weather changing economic conditions.

In collaboration with the City Council, I am confident we will continue serving our citizens with good financial stewardship, while improving the quality of life in every neighborhood. It is with these goals in mind and in partnership with our dedicated department heads that I present this balanced Fiscal Year 2024 Proposed Budget for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

William S. Stimpson
Mayor
